One student was killed and three injured when fire swept a Kenyon College dormitory at Gambier, Ohio, early Sunday. Authorities believe the blaze was started by sparks from a fireplace, and said that most of the injuries were caused when students jumped from upper windows of the building.

Hitch-hikers Held By Local Police

Two Are Released in Court Today; Complaint Made by Woman

Two hitch-hikers were held by the local police for questioning Sunday following a message from the Dutchess county sheriff's office saying that two men were wanted there on complaint of a woman.

Audrey Poppel, 28, of Poughkeepsie, according to the Dutchess county report, said she had made her escape from two men with whom she had been riding early Sunday morning, and telephoned the authorities from a farmhouse. A message describing the men was sent to all police of the area and at 7:15 a. m. Sunday, Detective Paul Botzick and Donald Shepard of Mineville, Pa., at Broadway and East Chester street.

The two were questioned and held on charges of hitchhiking, but were released when they appeared this morning before Assistant City Judge Frank Martucci.

Youths' Arsenal Found

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Police uncovered a teenage gang arsenal today in the roundup of 25 youths suspected of belonging to warring Brooklyn gangs. The roundup which followed the fatal shooting of 15-year-old Stanley Fox led detectives to the discovery of dozens of rifles, pistols and knives cached in the boys' homes. After questioning, all but eight of the 25 were released. Police said young Fox was shot accidentally when he sought to buy a pistol as "protection" on the eve of a finish fight between the Black Hat gang and the Bristol street gang. The pistol discharged while Fox was inspecting it and the bullet pierced his head, police said.

Aviation Code Asked

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Two Queens legislators urged today that the state enact a code for the regulation of aircraft. Senator Seymour Halpern and Assemblyman Samuel Rabin, both Republicans, announced they would introduce a resolution in the legislature tonight calling for creation of a joint legislative committee to prepare an aviation code. "At present there is no state regulation of aircraft," they said in a joint statement. "It is entirely under federal control. Several states have adopted laws to place certain limits and control of aircraft within their borders. We feel that the lives and property which are constantly jeopardized by low flying aircraft, should be protected through state laws."

Ruins Are Too Hot for Search; Fail to Report for Classes

Gambier, O., Feb. 28 (AP)—Kenyon College today abandoned hope of finding alive the six students who were missing after a dormitory fire which killed two persons.

Gambier, O., Feb. 28 (AP)—Six students who were reported missing in a million-dollar Kenyon College dormitory fire yesterday failed to appear for classes today. Fear mounted that they were trapped in the inferno which claimed two lives and injured 26 others.

There was no official comment from college officials. However, it was pointed out that if the students were out of town for the week-end, they probably would have returned for classes this morning. Officials said the ruins of the 122-year-old sandstone building were still too hot to search. Smoking debris was scattered between the gaunt stone walls of "Old Kenyon." It was the oldest building on the campus of the school for men.

That was all that was left of a 122-year-old dormitory that housed 120 men. The four-foot walls of gray stone withstood three hours of fire that raged through "Middle Kenyon" and adjoining wings early Sunday. The dead students were: Edward Brett of Mount Vernon, N. Y., 19-year-old premedical student. He tried unsuccessfully to jump from the window of his room to a fire escape some feet along the wall and three stories up. Marc S. Peck of Fenton, Mich. He died of burns in Mercy Hospital at nearby Mount Vernon, O. The missing were: Ernest Ahwajee of Akron, Ohio, 18-year-old sophomore and former tennis player at Akron West High School.

Wicks Takes Rest

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, is resting at his home this week on the advice of his physician. The veteran legislator shows the strain of the session at Albany, his physician said, but with an undisturbed rest will be his vigorous self soon again.

Dewey Says, 'Cut Budget' But Also Give Up Services

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Republican tax rebels will reply tonight to Governor Dewey's challenge that his record-smashing $936,200,000 state budget cannot be cut without reducing needed services.

Through one of their leaders, Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, the G.O.P. legislative insurgents will state what items in the budget they believe can be lowered or eliminated without impairing essential services to the state's 14,000,000 residents.

Dewey laid down the challenge in a 30-minute radio address last night over the state network of the National Broadcasting Company.

He said the budget could not be lowered without crippling state services or reducing state assistance to local governments.

Mahoney will deliver his answer in a radio speech from Albany, over the same N.B.C. stations beginning at 10:30 tonight.

The revolt against Dewey's 1949-50 budget and its $168,200,000 tax boost broke into the open a week ago.

Erle and Westchester county G.O.P. legislators declared they would fight in the Republican-controlled Legislature to reduce the budget.

By joining with Democrats, they could block Dewey's fiscal program in the Senate where the Republican majority is only 31 to 25. Twenty-nine votes are required for passage.

The G.O.P. insurgents have announced as their objectives, the elimination of the proposed one-cent per gallon increase in the gasoline tax, now four cents, and a scaling down of the proposed

Anglo Aid Fund Bids At Lowest

Hoffman Says Proposed $940,000,000 'Tight Fit', and Is Minimum Needed

Justification Asked

Committee Calls E.C.A. Head to Prove Anglo Claims

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—The administration advised Congress today the proposed $940,000,000 new aid to Britain is a "tight fit"—the absolute minimum needed.

"Any reduction in it," declared Paul Hoffman, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration, "would adversely affect continued recovery in both the United States and western Europe."

He and a group of advisers from various branches of the government appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, as the aftermath of a trans-Atlantic discussion of the state of Britain's economic health.

Because of varying official British statements as to how far she has recovered from the strains of war, the committee called in Hoffman to justify Britain's share of the new $5,580,000,000 European Recovery Program.

That was the sole purpose of today's hearings.

"Until Great Britain's earnings of dollars through exports and services to the United States and other hard currency areas are sufficient to pay for the essential imports she must have, she will still need American aid," Hoffman said in his prepared testimony.

"We are convinced," he asserted "that the salvation of western Europe depends upon joint economic effort of all the participants and can only be achieved by mutual aid and closer economic cooperation."

"Any setback to a country so important as Britain would be bound to have the most serious consequences."

The question of cutting the British program by at least $200,000,000 had been explored, Hoffman said.

He not only pictured the adverse effect he said it would have on the British economy but also detailed how it might cut into United States' exports in cotton, foods, tobacco, in industrial goods.

Hoffman expressed serious concern lest British progress be reversed and a "stultifying and generally demoralizing influence" on the whole peace and vigor of British recovery be substituted.

In describing the $940,000,000 as the "absolute minimum" Hoffman said the program it would cover had been screened not only by the British, and the Economic Cooperation Administration, but also by the State, Treasury, Agriculture and Commerce Departments.

Killer Ray Gilbert Is Slain by Police At Tourist Cabin

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 28 (AP)—The vicious killer, Bill Ray Gilbert, made good his boast he would never be taken alive. He fell dead before a blaze of police gunfire here last night.

He almost made good his second boast—"I'll take two officers with me when I die." He shot a policeman three times in the leg.

The 28-year-old Arizona ex-convict killed a woman and two men near Needles, Calif., last Wednesday.

The gun battle with police ended a crime foray in which Gilbert and a prison pal, George Adolph Schmid, 22, kidnapped a Phoenix woman, killed the three Californians and returned to Arizona with a plan to kill the state prison warden and other officials.

Schmid was captured without resistance by two city policemen here early yesterday as he tried to reach his mother's home. He was armed with two pistols.

Police surrounded a tourist court cabin in the southwestern section of the city last night when the operator, C. A. Jensen, reported a man he recognized as Gilbert had registered during the afternoon.

Two policemen battered on the cabin door and ordered the occupant to come out.

The answer was a blast of pistol fire from the cabin's attic. Detective Ed Langevin fell wounded.

Police poured bullets through the thin cabin walls.

They knew their man was hit when blood streaked the white exterior of the cabin.

"Don't shoot anymore. I'm hit in the head," Gilbert shouted above the gunfire.

As police held their fire, Gilbert came to the door.

He threw it open and, blood streaming down his naked body, California's and returned to Arizona with a plan to kill the state prison warden and other officials.

Congress Is Asked For Wider Program

President Advises Regarding Filibuster

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman advised administration leaders in the Senate today to meet the filibuster issue "head on" and seek a show down on curbing it.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois told reporters after a White House conference that Mr. Truman had given that advice.

Lucas himself commented: "This issue has to be met sooner or later and we might as well meet it now."

That meant, he indicated, that the fight over the filibuster would not be put aside for any legislation, but would be fought to a finish.

Solid Scandinavia May Get Behind Defense Maneuver

Denmark Seems Aligned and Sweden Is Said to Be Leaning That Way

Copenhagen, Denmark, Feb. 28 (AP)—Denmark appeared lined up firmly with the West in the cold war today, and there were indications that Sweden, too, is leaning in that direction.

Denmark's position on the North Atlantic Defense Pact—proposed western military alliance against Russian expansion—was made clear yesterday when the country's largest political party, the Social Democrats, decided to look to the west for security.

Meanwhile high diplomatic sources in Sweden, traditionally neutral key nation of the north, Scandinavian bloc, predicted that Sweden will join the projected North Atlantic agreement within six months. One informed source said "sooner, if the Russians make any move toward Finland."

Norway, the other Scandinavian country, already has turned to the West for her military security. Norway said an all-Scandinavian defense arrangement with no links to the West, as proposed some time ago by Sweden, would not be strong enough to make her feel secure.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark had accepted economic ties with the West in the Marshall Plan. Until recently, however, they had been reluctant to forge any military links for fear of Russian reaction. All are within easy range of Soviet forces. Norway has a far northern common border with the Soviet and Denmark is 10 minutes flight from Russian air bases. Sweden borders on Finland, tightly tied by treaty to the Kremlin.

Denmark's Social Democrats, with only one dissenting vote reported, approved through the party's executive committee a resolution calling for "increased political and military cooperation" with the western democracies. This resolution said an all-Scandinavian alliance is "not possible at present."

The party's vote in Parliament, added to that of smaller parties, already committed to the North Atlantic agreement, provides a clear-cut majority in both Houses.

The Social Democrats' action was a long step from the party's traditional anti-militaristic policy. Premier Hans Hedtoft, the party's leader, stated previously that he, personally, was in favor of the Atlantic agreement.

As a result, Denmark is now expected, like Norway, to start talks with the Atlantic powers about what she gets and her responsibilities it and when she joins. It means, also, Denmark has turned her back on Russia.

The North Atlantic pact now is being negotiated by the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Sweden's swing away from the neutrality that has kept her out of war for 135 years was apparent. High Swedish officials now acknowledge privately that their country cannot stay on the fence much longer in the East-West lineup. They believe isolation is fast becoming impossible and Swedish sympathy lies with the West.

Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander told a reporter yesterday that Sweden still holds open its offer of a strictly neutral Scandinavian defense alliance. But, he added, this could not succeed unless Norway joins.

He said he believes Sweden should adopt a "wait and see" policy for the next five or six months.

Tumor Unit Plans Use of Atomic Aid

Ulster Quarries May Reopen for Commercial Use

Holdings of Blue Stone at Jockey Hill Are Leased; Demand Increases

The Jockey Hill stone quarries in the town of Kingston, which once supplied great quantities of blue stone, may again become the scene of extensive operations. A lease has been entered into by the Jockey Hill area, and Trowbridge Brothers, Olive Bridge contractors and engineers, under which Trowbridge Brothers may operate the quarries on a commercial basis.

A spokesman for Trowbridge Brothers this morning stated that the lease had been consummated and that plans were being made to operate the quarries commercially. A shovel has been moved to the site for the purpose of removing overburden and exposing the stone. Samples of the stone have been taken and it is proposed to put the product from the quarries on the market.

There is a considerable market for high quality stone such as was supplied for many years from the Jockey Hill area and it is believed the quarries may again be operated commercially to supply that demand.

Advantage of the recent good weather was taken by Trowbridge Brothers to do some preliminary work and to move in a shovel to clear an area from which sample stone could be taken. Resumption of operations in the area will depend upon the weather and the exploration work which has been done thus far.

Asked as to whether any definite market for the product from the quarries had been found, Trowbridge Brothers stated they felt there was definite market for the stone, and that prospective users of stone had been contacted but no contracts for sale of stone had been entered into as yet.

During the construction of the Ashokan reservoir large quantities of local blue stone was used on the job. Present construction by the City of New York of reservoirs in this area will again create a demand.

Buckner Trial Is Set

Radioisotopes Are to Be Included in County's Equipment

Indications that Kingston will hold an important place in the atomic war on cancer came today from tumor clinic representatives of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Radioisotopes it was said would be available and would be utilized in the Ulster County Tumor Clinic, now under construction, for research and therapeutic purposes.

The announcement comes concurrently with the federal government's report that the price tags have been taken off 50 or so radioisotopes. Researchers have been told to come and get them for nothing, according to The Associated Press.

It's part of a $450,000 anti-cancer program launched a year ago by the Atomic Energy Commission. This project is aimed at developing use of radioactive substances in studies of the nature of cancer; its diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. Shields Warren said in Washington the action will prove "a significant enlargement" of the commission's cancer program. He is director of its division of biology and medicine. The announcement was made by the commission in a statement.

Scientists say isotopes probably are the most important of all scientific tools for the study of cancer.

It's their versatility. They not only may be used in research aimed at unraveling the mystery of what causes and produces cancer, but they also are being used in its treatment.

The A.E.C. will give way to qualified cancer researchers all radioisotopes now being sold. There will be a handling charge for packaging, etc. Up to this time, only three were free—those of the

Hoover Commission Reports Nation's Defenses Are Weak

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today reported the nation's defense setup "perilously" weak at a time "when the need for a strong military establishment is obvious."

It said there is "continued disharmony and lack of unified planning" in the supposedly "unified" Department of Defense; it found that the military is far too free of civilian control; and it warned of "extravagance" and "waste" which could do serious damage to the national economy.

The 12-man bi-partisan commission on government reorganization, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, strongly urged on Congress six recommendations intended to remedy defects it found under the present unification law.

"There is evidence," it reported, "that the utmost that can be accomplished under the present statute will fall far short of national needs."

Most of the recommendations were aimed at concentrating greater control in the hands of the civilian Secretary of Defense (Secretary Forrestal, a member of the commission, took no part in preparing the report.)

But the group's final suggestion emphasized the need for immediate action on such things as "emergency plans for civilian and industrial mobilization," plans for civilian defense and "defenses against unconventional methods of warfare."

In commenting on the freedom enjoyed by the military, the commission leveled especially strong criticism at the way the joint chiefs of staff are set up.

It said the chiefs "are virtually a law unto themselves" and suggested that the utmost that can be accomplished under the present statute will fall far short of national needs.

Extra Cash Would Aid All Needy

Added $250,000,000 Would Be Booster for Billion-a-Year Outlay

Phase Is Covered

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—The administration asked Congress today for a $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 expansion of its present $1,000,000,000-a-year program for helping the needy. The extra money would go toward "home relief"—including cost of medical care—for all needy people.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, commissioner for social security, presented to the House Ways and Means Committee the administration arguments. They covered today the first phase—direct relief for the poor—of President Truman's legislation for a vast expansion of the social security program.

Social security, Altmeyer said, has achieved its primary immediate objective, to abolish the poor house, but the long range goal of "preventing destitution" is yet to be met.

Mr. Truman wants federal financial aid extended to all needy people, up to $100 a month for a couple, and $20 for each additional person in a needy home. Federal assistance, in money matching with the states, now is limited to needy aged, the blind and to dependent children.

Altmeyer appeared as the committee opened public hearings into Mr. Truman's overall legislation calling for:

1. Direct relief for all needy persons; 2. Blanketing of 20,000,000 more persons—doctors, lawyers, farmers, businessmen, servants and others—under old age insurance, upping the total covered to 50,000,000; 3. Greatly increased benefits; and 4. Boosting—in some case, tripling—the security tax on pay checks and payrolls.

The President has promised legislation later proposing a national program of health insurance—with new payroll taxes and the government paying doctor bills—and calling for expansion of unemployment compensation laws.

Altmeyer told the committee 5,000,000 Americans already receive some form of public assistance, amounting to a Federal-state-local total of almost $2,000,000,000 a year. This is apart from the old age and survivors insurance benefits that are paid for in special taxes upon workers and their bosses.

States set the size of public assistance payments. They ranged last December from $18.38 per recipient in Mississippi to $78.18 in Colorado. The Federal Government now enters the matching arrangement up to $50 per recipient elderly person.

The 5,000,000 include 2,500,000 needy, 1,700,000 persons in families receiving aid to dependent children, 86,000 blind persons, and 800,000 needy persons who do not fall within these three categories.

The Federal Government puts up $1,000,000,000 a year in a money matching arrangement with the states, for aid to needy aged, the blind and for dependent children.

Now, Altmeyer said, the administration wants to provide from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 a year more so that relief can be extended to all needy people, including the physically and mentally handicapped and jobless persons not covered by unemployment compensation.

"Only if this gap is bridged will the nation have an effective public assistance system able to meet changing demands," he said.

Mr. Truman's general legislation, for broad social security expansion, got an uncertain reception when it hit Capitol Hill last week. No one can say for sure how much of it will pass.

Connelly Canvass
Mrs. Josephine Hotelling, chairman of the Connelly district in the Red Cross drive, will have as her co-workers Mrs. Ole Christensen, Mrs. Rodney DuBois and Mrs. Bruce Davis. The house to house canvass will start March 1.

Closed Apple Box Package Favored

A resolution favoring declaring the Eastern apple box a closed package was passed by the Fruit Commodity Committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau last week.

Under present law, the Eastern apple box is an open package and therefore does require markings as to grade and size. If it is declared a closed package, it must be marked according to grade and size.

If this recommendation is approved by the state agriculture commissioner, the committee then recommended that a new grade of apple be established, to be known as "orchard run."

The committee also passed a resolution asking for relaxation of child labor laws to make it possible for children to harvest small fruit such as various types of berries. They pointed out that this is easy work, usually enjoyed by children, and that because the season is so short it is impossible to attract adult pickers. The resolution was sent in a letter to Senator Arthur H. Wicks and to Assemblyman John F. Wadlin.

Walter Herring, Highland, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting which was held at the Farm Bureau office in Kingston Thursday night.

Police described the man as about six feet tall, 40 years old and weighing about 180 pounds. The report said that no such accounts were listed at the Kingston bank mentioned.

In his 30-minute talk, the governor said his budget and recommended $168,200,000 tax increase provided for only essential services.

Early Shad Season In Hudson River Opined by Veteran

A prediction that there will be amply shad dinners available by Good Friday was made last week by Denny Crawford, 83, reportedly the dean of Hudson river shad fishermen.

Denny, a resident of Poughkeepsie, backs up his early season crystal-balling act on the weather angle. He opined that residents of the mid-Hudson valley could be reasonably sure of planning a shad dinner at least a couple of weeks earlier this year.

"I ain't never seen anything like it in the last 83 years," was the statement Crawford made in describing the winter of 1948-49. He pointed out that the river never did freeze over this year, and that usually means that the shad will be coming up to spawn early. "This is true," he pointed out, "because shad do not like muddy water if they can help it."

Although the dean of the Hudson river shad fishermen isn't active anymore in this line, he plans to go along "for the ride" once in awhile during the coming season.

A friend of Crawford's, Larry Stout of 34 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, is another believer that there will be an early fishing season. He explained that he was out January 17 and came back with a haul of 50 fish, blue gills, perch and carp. After this early season catch, Stout remarked, "I don't think I have ever been on the river, and in a boat, any other January."

Levin Pleads Guilty

The court was jam-packed at Levin's arraignment. Hundreds of other persons milled in the corridor outside.

Amended Pact Signed at Pilgrim

An amended agreement has been signed by the Pilgrim Furniture Company and by Carpenters Local 1545, A.F.L., representing employees, it was announced today by George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the union. The agreement extends the 1947 agreement until November, 1950.

The amended agreement provides for three paid holidays, an increase in rates for piece workers engaged in making sample furniture, a lump sum increase per hour for time workers to be allocated among time rated jobs by a joint committee of the company and the union. This increase will average approximately 10 per cent, Yerry said. All wage rate increases are retroactive to January 1, 1949.

Group insurance, paid by the company, provides hospitalization, special medical and surgical services for all employees for injuries or illness not covered by workmen's compensation insurance. A retiring clause, based on the cost of living index, becomes effective after January 1, 1950. All other provisions of the 1947 agreement providing for vacations, overtime and union security continue in effect.

Negotiations were begun on November 1, 1948, by a committee of the union and his business agent, George E. Yerry, Jr. William Kaznowski is president of the union.

Salt Substitute Is Withdrawn in City

A substitute for common table salt which the American Medical Association earlier this month said caused the death of at least four persons has been withdrawn from sale in this area by orders of its manufacturers.

A survey of druggists in Kingston revealed that each had been informed by postal card from the Westwood Pharmaceutical Corporation of Buffalo, principal marketer of the substitute which they sold under the name "Vestral," to return the stock because the U. S. Food and Drug Administration had ordered it be classified as a drug instead of as a food.

This action taken by the manufacturer was the only action taken in this area, apparently, as no druggist reported receiving instructions from the U. S. Food and Drug Administration directly, and Dr. George James, county health commissioner, said he had not received any official instructions regarding the sale of the salt substitute.

According to an Associated Press dispatch of February 18, the American Medical Association announced at Chicago that at least four persons died after using the substitute and that the Food and Drug Administration had ordered it withdrawn from sale. All local druggists reported they voluntarily withdrew the article from sale when they were informed of this by newspaper and radio without awaiting official orders.

COURAGE

Today I met a friend of old
Who talked and laughed with true delight
Yet when his story without was told
My selfish cares took sudden flight.
I find that when I look around
And talk with people here and there,
I find a courage touch in every sound
And everyone must take his share.
It seems to be the rule of life
For you . . . and you . . . and all the earth
To sample joy and while seeking mirth
No matter where the home may be
In this or any other land
Unending bliss will never see
Life never deals a perfect hand.
If you can live each troubled hour
And find therein one tiny joy
You learn to take each passing shower
And hum a song . . . time can't destroy.

Ford to Increase Production of Lower-Priced Cars

Detroit, Feb. 28 (AP)—Ford Motor Co. went ahead with plans today to step up production of lower-priced models substantially. Output of Lincoln cars, however, will be cut sharply, the company announced.

Executive Vice President Ernest R. Breech said Ford had no intention of following General Motors' lead in cutting prices. He indicated current wages and material costs were too high.

G-M announced price reductions today.

tions ranging from $10 to $150 Friday. No other auto firms appeared ready to follow suit.

Ford plans to attain a combined total of 109,000 cars and trucks monthly by June, Breech said. This is well above December's postwar record of 88,141.

Mercury production will aim at 19,800 units by June.

On the other hand, Lincoln output, which totaled 3,763 for February, will be cut to an average of 2,500 monthly, Breech said. He explained that demand has "diminished materially."

At South Bend, Ind., Studebaker Corp also announced a production increase. The firm said the present weekly schedule of 3,810 units weekly would be boosted to 4,610.

The corporation will begin hiring 1,800 new employees today.

McQuillan complained to the deputy sheriff of pains in his left hip and right ankle, a bump on the head and neck injuries, for which he said he would go to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh for examination.

Officials Fear . . .

(290 West End avenue).

Colin Woodworth of Jamaica Plain, Mass. (64 Ellendale street).

Martin E. Mangel, 18-year-old son of a New York retail store executive (200 E. 90th street).

Mercy hospital reported two other men critically hurt. They were Jack McDonald of Hamilton, O., and Robert McFarland of Ames, Ia. McDonald has a fractured skull. McFarland was cut and burned about the head and face.

Saturday night was dance night at Kenyon College. Many of the boys donned stiff shirts and dress clothes. Students were in and out of historic "Old Kenyon" all evening.

By midnight the fun began to slacken. The boys began taking off the grand staircase to their rooms. Many already were in bed by 3 a. m. In was quiet. A cheery fire crackled in the great fireplace.

An hour later, fire was raging up the aged "Middle Kenyon" section. Officials believed a spark from the fireplace ignited a rug. For a few minutes fire fighters thought the flames could be contained with the fire walls separating the wings from the main part of the structure.

But the fire vaulted upward and raced along the common roof. Frightened students dived head first from second and third-story windows. Others tried descending the walls down the ivy that matted the damp stone.

Still others jumped for nearby fire escapes. They were blocked by flame-filled halls from reaching them normally. Broke was killed in this manner; his roommate Saul Sanders of Mount Vernon, N. Y., jumped just ahead of him. Sanders made it with comparatively minor injuries.

Students and townspeople, hastily aroused from the tiny village of Gambler, performed many acts of heroism.

Huge Plane Damaged

Los Angeles, Feb. 28 (AP)—Howard Hughes today disclosed the world's biggest plane—had been "fairly extensively" damaged but did not elaborate further. The eight-engine plywood cargo ship is dry-docked at Terminal Island in the port of Los Angeles. Several years in the making, the ship has not yet made its flight tests, although in November 1947 Hughes himself skimmed it above the harbor during taxing tests. A spokesman for Hughes estimated that $27,000,000 so far has gone into the plane. It has a 320-foot wingspread. Hughes, through the spokesman, declined to say how or when the plane was damaged or what part of it was affected.

Fourth Defendant Pleads His Guilt In Court at Sofia

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 28 (AP)—The fourth straight defendant in Bulgaria's spy trial of 15 Bulgarian Protestant clergymen pleaded guilty today as the hearing went into the third day in court.

It was the Rev. Georgi Chernov, 46, biding Pentecostal pastor.

Like the others who preceded him on the stand, he launched into a long public confession of espionage for the United States and Britain.

Chernov had written a 250-page "confession" while in jail—the longest preliminary deposition taken from any of the defendants. All are charged with treason, spying and black market money dealings.

Chernov said he had been ordered to collect espionage by Cyril Black, former U. S. political mission secretary here. He claimed he had talked with Black during the period from November, 1944, to the middle of 1945.

(Black, now a professor at Princeton University, has denied the charges made by the Communist-dominated Bulgarian government, as have other Americans accused of complicity.)

American and British authorities in Sofia have rejected all charges made by the defendants in their court recitations. They said that some of the Americans and British mentioned in testimony were not even in Bulgaria at the time the pastors said in their confessions they talked with them here.

In numerous other cases, officials said, conversations between Americans and Bulgarian pastors concerned only generalities and had nothing to do with espionage. Some spectators in the courtroom were dozing as Chernov continued the routine of pleading guilty and accusing himself.

Chernov testified he and other pastors had delivered information to America on Russian troop movements and on military and economic developments.

He said the Evangelical Church Council of Bulgaria gave orders through Protestant pastors to "praise everything American and slander all that is Russian."

The council is an organization of the Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Pentecost churches in Bulgaria. Protestants are a small minority of 13,490 in Bulgaria's 7,000,000 population.

The three who pleaded guilty previously were the Rev. Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, a Congregationalist and religious representative of the United Protestant Church group; the Rev. Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, a Methodist, and the Rev. Nikola Mihailov Naumov, a Baptist.

All delivered long speeches of self-denunciation on the stand. Prior to the trial they were held in jail for three months, undergoing questioning.

Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The president of the New York Telephone Company said today the company's plans for expansion and improvement of service "hinge upon the successful outcome" of its application for a 15 per cent fare rate increase. ## Collision Is Investigated

San Francisco, Feb. 28 (AP)—A naval board of inquiry is investigating a collision at sea in which the destroyer escort Marsh was badly damaged when rammed in the forward section of the destroyer Tausig. No one was injured in the mishap, which occurred during maneuvers the night of Feb. 22, about 500 miles west of here. The twelfth naval district headquarters said the ships were running with lights out.

Dutchess County Unions Seek Boosts

While wage boosts of 62½ cents an hour and 25 cents an hour are being asked by two building trades unions in Beacon and Poughkeepsie, Harold Miller, president of the Poughkeepsie Master Builders' Association, has revealed that wage rates to the building trades workers in that area are "higher than in most parts of the country."

Miller's figures followed recent wage demands by a carpenters' union at Beacon asking for a boost from $2.25 to $2.87½ per hour and Local 417, Iron Workers' Union of Poughkeepsie, asking for a pay hike of 25 cents an hour. The present scale for the iron workers is $2.75 an hour.

Although failing to divulge what the Association will do in regards to the wage demands, President Miller declared "we hope to work harmoniously with the unions. We also hope to keep building costs down and encourage new building in this area."

Catskill to Receive Gift From French 'Merci Train'

Catskill is the second community along the Hudson Valley that has been mentioned to receive one of the treasured gifts from the French 'Merci Train' which recently arrived in this country. It was announced in Newburgh last week that arrangements have been completed whereby a gift from the Gratitude Train would be given to that Orange county city. Arrangements for the Catskill gift were made by Col. Albert

S. Callan of Chatham, state chairman, and Grover Whalen, New York city chairman. The sport of mountain climbing has almost a million devotees, yet few persons can give a satisfactory reason for the urge to climb.

As Pegler Sees It

John Abt became the leader. Other members were Lee Pressman, Alger Hiss, Donald Hiss, Victor Perlo and Charles Kramer.

This was the basis for the questions put to Witt, Pressman and Abt. The following is Witt's own statement of the important government jobs that were thrown to him when he joined the covert crew of the Felix Frankfurter's proteges in the government of the United States early in the Roosevelt reign, while the people were all unsuspecting.

First employed in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in August, 1933. In February, 1934, he joined the legal staff of the old National Labor Relations Board. He and other members of the staff of the old board were transferred to the new staff set up under the Wagner Act. Until December, 1935, he was attorney on the staff of the Labor Relations Board. He then became assistant general counsel of the N.L.R.B. In November, 1937, he became secretary of the board. He remained such until December of 1940. He then resigned following an expose by Congressman Howard W. Smith, of Virginia, which revealed Communists in two dominant jobs on the board.

Thus he was secretary, the key position, throughout the time when the C.I.O.'s professional riot leaders under Communist direction were terrorizing much of Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania under the protection and political guidance of the Labor Relations Board. This violent anarchy alone was responsible for the creation of the C.I.O. and it was encouraged by F. D. Roosevelt and fostered by the Labor Relations Board.

Lee Pressman, Mr. Murray's old counsel, said he held the following positions in the federal government: Assistant general counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; general counsel to the Works Progress Administration; general counsel of the Resettlement Administration, under Rexford Tugwell, administrator.

During Pressman's term as assistant general counsel of the A.A.A., his boss, the chief counsel, was Jerome N. Frank, who now sits on the bench of the United States Court of Appeals in New York. Frank, another of the Happy Hot Dogs, was a sponsor of Albert Hiss, who was named by Chambers as his State Department contact and leak during the period of espionage. Frankfurter also endorsed Hiss and got him his first and several subsequent jobs in Washington.

From the government service Pressman dropped nicely into the job of chief counsel of the C.I.O.

Abt entered the government in 1933 in the A.A.A. also under Jerome Frank. He was thereafter assistant general counsel of the W.P.A., special counsel of the Securities and Exchange Commission and chief counsel to an investigation conducted by Robert M. La Follette, then a senator from Wisconsin, into violations of "civil liberties" of C.I.O. rioters during the insurrections. In 1937 he became special assistant to the attorney general in charge of the trial section of the anti-trust division.

He was general counsel of Henry Wallace's Progressive, or Krenimite, party in 1948. He next went to the American Clothing Workers by invitation of the late Sidney Hillman in 1938. It was Hillman who organized the Political Action Committee, and "cleared" Harry S. Truman for vice president of the United States in 1944.

Not only Murray but Judge Jerome Frank and Justice Felix Frankfurter, of the United States Supreme Court, invited public belief that they did not suspect that any of these men was engaged in activities which might be questioned. It is not necessary to believe them. It is permissible to believe that they had not mere suspicions but actual knowledge of the associations and objectives of Witt, Pressman, and Abt—whatever they were. # Colonial League Adopts 130-Game Schedule With Openers May 4th

New Slate Marks 10-Game Slice And Later Start

Officials of the Class B Colonial Baseball League meeting in Kingston yesterday adopted a 130-game schedule for the 1949 season, a reduction of 10 games over the past season, and delayed 27 to May 4.

The schedule for the first two days of the season are:

Wednesday, May 4
Waterbury at Port Chester
Kingston at Stamford
Poughkeepsie at Bridgeport

Thursday, May 5
Stamford at Kingston
Bridgeport at Poughkeepsie
Port Chester at Waterbury

Port Chester was the only club not represented at the three-hour business meeting held Sunday morning at the Stuyvesant Hotel. President John Sculzi presided.

Most of the session was taken up with schedule matters and the trading of dates.

President Ted Laviano and Manager Julie Laviano represented Kingston. The other representatives were Lou Basile and Jerry O'Connell of the Poughkeepsie Chiefs; Bobby Sherwood, business manager of Bridgeport; Henry "Duke" Del Po of Waterbury and Johnny Gentile, ex-Kingston Recreation second baseman, who now controls the Stamford franchise.

To Name Managers

President Sculzi reported that Al Brantini, former International League pitcher, has been retained as Port Chester manager for the third consecutive year. Joe Glenn, ex-major league catcher, will pilot the Stamford club, while Al Byers is the new Bridgeport manager.

Waterbury and Poughkeepsie are expected to announce their managers next Saturday. Both clubs said they would be well known "name" baseball figures. The league tentatively scheduled the annual All-Star game for July and expressed a desire to have Kingston act as host. The regular season ends on Labor Day and the regular season playoffs are under consideration. Sculzi revealed that there is an outside possibility that the first four teams in the Colonial League may play the first division clubs of the Class B New England League in a special playoff.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

HERO-WORSHIP

Every parent, probably at some time, has been up against the following problem: "How can I possibly prevent my children from imitating their Uncle Henry's table manners? They want to do everything he does and his table manners leave everything to be desired."

The one thing you must not do, of course, is criticize any other member of the family to the children. But you can insist you and their father want them to eat the way you do because that is the way you like it best. (Then you must set the best example you possibly can.) If they should speak about the bad manners of their uncle, you could say: "Well, remember that Uncle Henry does not see very well," or "his hands are not steady because he is very old gentleman," or whatever other excuse you can give.

Jewelry With Wedding Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: Is a pin with colored stones in it (sapphires, rubies and diamonds—all precious stones) proper to wear at the neck of a white wedding dress. Or should the bride's jewelry always be white, either pearls or diamonds, real or otherwise?

Answer: Taking it for granted that the pin is real and that the stones, therefore, are not too conspicuous there would be no objection to a bride wearing it, even though colorless jewelry is to be preferred.

Opening Candy Box

Dear Mrs. Post: When a boy arrives bearing a small box of candy should I open it then and have the whole thing disappear among a roomful of people, or may I take it and put it away until later?

Answer: Since, under the circumstances you describe, it could not have been passed to all, it would be better to put it away until later. When he found you in a room full of people, what he really should have done was to leave the candy with his hat and coat and give it to you later.

Which Comes First?

Dear Mrs. Post: Which should be served first: Clam chowder or steamed clams?

Answer: The chowder which is soup, comes first.

Should knives be put on the luncheon table if they are not needed? This is one of many questions answered in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 594, "Table Setting." To obtain a copy send 10¢ (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. The union said the bakery shutdowns are a "lockout" and that the strike had been called against the Continental Company because it is "leading the resistance of employers to union demands."

There was no immediate comment by bakery officials.

The five bakeries backing Continental sent telegrams to their employees directing them not to report for work during the next scheduled shift. The union then directed Local 550 members employed at the non-strike bakeries to report for their jobs today.

The union said all six bakeries failed to bake bread and cake for delivery today.

About 120 drivers and 400 production workers are involved in the strike against Continental, the union said, and the shutdown spread the effects to a total of 1,800 drivers and 4,500 production workers in all six plants.

A union spokesman said Local 50 of the A. F. L. Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union has contracts with the struck plants which run until about next May 31. The contracts, the spokesman said, contain no-strike and no-lockout provisions.

The Teamsters Union has demanded a weekly wage guarantee of $65 for salesmen and salesmen-drivers to replace the present $55; a five-day week instead of the present six; a company-financed welfare and pension fund, and an improved vacation schedule. The union rejected a company offer of a $3 weekly wage increase. Many of the workers involved are paid commissions.

Billie Doubts She Could Become Woman

Denver, Feb. 28 (AP)—Billie Morrison wanted to leave her husband 20 years ago, and thought it would be easier to get away from the small Texas town in men's clothing.

She put on pants, and, except for one brief return to dresses, she's been masquerading as a man ever since. She probably still would be today but for an argument with her daughter.

"It's easier to get along in the world as a man," she told Detective Sgt. William Sanders.

Sanders said the 36-year-old woman and her 19-year-old daughter, Judy, started arguing in a bar yesterday. When they returned home the argument continued. Finally, he said, Judy ran into the street and told her mother's secret to a policeman. The two were arrested for investigation.

The detective said Mrs. Morrison left her husband shortly after their marriage. She worked as a painter and did other manual labor at different Texas towns.

The one time she tried to go back to being a woman she found that "I was mauled too much by other men."

She moved to Denver five years ago and worked as cook here.

"I've been a man so long I doubt if I could change back," she said. "I think, act and live like a man."

"I've been in some fights, too, and have come off all right."

elements iodine, phosphorus and sodium.

The commission said the step was made possible by improved production techniques at the Oak Ridge national laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn., and the Argonne national laboratory, Chicago.

The great majority of the radioisotopes made by the commission, useful in industry, agriculture, biology and medicine, come from Oak Ridge.

Effective Substitute
The commission said that one radioisotope promises to become an effective substitute for rare and expensive radium, used in cancer research for years.

This is the radioisotope of the element Cobalt, known as Cobalt-60. Two other important materials added to the free list are the radioisotopes of gold and carbon.

Radioisotopes simply are elements that have been made radioactive by exposing them to the "atomic furnace," such as the one at Oak Ridge.

Radioactive materials were so costly before the atomic bomb project was set up that their use was severely restricted.

In research they are valuable because they emit rays that may be detected by special instruments. Thus it is possible to trace the movement of different materials in the body. A research worker, using phosphorus, may determine how the body utilizes phosphorus, and in what types of tissue it accumulates. This may reveal how cancers are nourished and under what conditions they grow.

The radiations sent out by the radioisotopes may also be used to destroy living cells and scientists are trying to develop ways of concentrating them in cancerous tissue to destroy it.

Miller Succeeds C. LeRoy Brower

Benson V. Miller, 139 Emerson street, was named today by City Assessor Winfield Swart to succeed C. LeRoy Brower as principal clerk in the assessor's office.

Brower, who has taken a leave of absence of six months to accept a position in the State Department of Taxation and Finance at Albany, was scheduled to finish at the local office today.

His successor, a disabled veteran, served more than two years in the army during World War 2. He was a supply sergeant and warehouse specialist.

A graduate of the local high school, Miller was associated for several years with the A. R. Newcombe Oil Co. He later worked for Chilson Newberry & Co., Inc., investment counsellors, was account clerk at the Walkhill Medical Security Prison, and had served as time keeper on the local veteran's housing project. More recently he was employed as clerk for the Rosenbaum Co., a tobacco wholesale house.

gested appointing a chairman to bring "this most powerful of military units" under strong civilian control.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower recently was named temporary chairman of the joint chiefs by President Truman, reportedly to bring an end to disagreements among the services. Whether that was the kind of appointment the commission had in mind, the report did not say.

Rivalries Are Bad

But it did lay considerable stress on the bad effect of "inter-service rivalries," commenting that they "indicate a lack of understanding of the fact that military security depends upon cooperation and balance among the army, navy and air force."

And what the commission said about the military establishment is a whole new story for the joint chiefs, who include the chiefs of staff of the army and air force, the chief of naval operations and the chief of staff to the President.

Three of the four members are spokesmen for separate service arms," the report said. "The secretary of defense, and his viewpoint for the unified establishment as a whole, is not represented in their deliberations."

"Thus, though the secretary of defense is, under the act, the principal assistant to the President in military matters, he cannot, as a practical matter, maintain effective civilian control over this most powerful of military units."

This "divided responsibility and allegiance are tantamount to an advertisement."

EAT WELL for Less

Potatoes Do Yeoman Service

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Potatoes can do yeoman service during the Lenten season which begins Ash Wednesday, March 2nd. Use them liberally in interesting ways.

Putt'd Mashed Potatoes

(Yield: 6 servings)

One quart mashed potatoes, hot milk, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1/4 teaspoon marjoram or thyme, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 small green pepper, diced.

Mix leftover or fresh mashed potatoes with enough hot milk to become light and fluffy. Whip in real mayonnaise, seasonings, onion and green pepper. Turn into a casserole. Swirl top with spoon. Bake in 400 degree F. oven for about 20 minutes or until puffed and delicately browned. Serve at once.

Menus planned in advance are always more economical than last-minute ones. Here are some tested model low-cost menus that use foods abundant in the markets now.

Dinner: Creamed dried beef, baked potatoes, kale with lemon and margarine sauce, cole slaw, bread, butter or fortified margarine, pineapple sherbert, coffee, milk.

board and munitions board, on the other.

5. Coordinate the medical departments of the three services with other government health agencies, as outlined in a report to come later.

6. Take "immediate" steps to prepare for civilian defense, mobilization, and unconventional methods of warfare, on the proposal to revamp the leadership of the joint chiefs of staff to the joint chiefs, appointed by the President and responsible to the secretary of defense.

He would be called the chief of staff and not "chairman," "responsible head," "principal advisor" or some other temporizing title, the minority report said.

Dean Acheson, now secretary of state, was one of the four dissenters.

Bacon Goes by Mail

Folks in Eire have found a way to get the little much-desired food to their relatives who have gone to England to work, Dublin reports. They fold a substantial rasher of bacon into the center of a newspaper and mail it to London.

Bar Committee Would Amend Law

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—A

New York State Bar Association committee says the Taft-Hartley Act should be amended to require that bargaining representatives of both employers and union sign non-Communist affidavits.

The law provides now that only union officers be required to sign affidavits that they are not Communists.

This change in the law was recommended by the association's committee on law and social security legislation which reported Saturday after a two-year study of the act.

Other recommendations included: That the present requirement for union shop elections be repealed, and that unions be permitted to bargain for a union shop if filing requirements of the act have been complied with and if the majority of employees in the preceding year had not voted to rescind the union shop authorization.

That unions be prohibited from dictating the number of employees to be hired as well as from seeking payment for services not performed.

That a strike by a union to force recognition by an employer be declared an unfair labor practice unless the union previously had been certified as bargaining agent.

That employers be relieved of the present requirement to bargain about "merit increases."

That injunctive relief may be granted by a U. S. District Court under certain conditions on the petition of the National Labor Relations Board or any person claiming to be injured by the illegal conduct of a union or employer.

The committee also proposed that the Taft-Hartley Act, amended as recommended by the committee, "shall be enacted into law by the New York State Legislature to make the state laws consistent with the federal laws."

Commerce Group Begins Plans for Publicity Folder

Preliminary plans for the formation of the publicity folder by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce were made Friday afternoon during a special committee meeting. Another meeting will be held next Friday at which time it is hoped that the final layout of the folder will be approved.

A. F. Modjeska, chairman of the committee, announced after yesterday's meeting that every effort will be made to prepare an attractive folder which will attract visitors to Kingston and vicinity both during the summer and winter seasons.

Other committee members attending the meeting were Joseph Morgan and James Quinn. Also present were Robert E. Teetsel, president of the Chamber of Commerce; and Albert Kurdt, executive secretary.

After yesterday's parley it was stated that the folder may be ready for distribution during the middle of April. National distribution will be obtained through the Ulster county publicity committee as in former years.

According to the committee, the preliminary plan is to omit specific reference to and the listing of actual accommodations. These will be prepared as a separate listing and used as a supplement available for distribution upon request.

All persons who operate hotels, boarding houses, tourist cabins and trailer camps within a radius of about 10 miles, are invited to register with the Chamber of Commerce so that the name and location may be included in any listing to be prepared.

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—A traffic accident might bring a police car, a sheriff's car and an ambulance to the scene. But the case was reversed here recently: A police car, a sheriff's car and an ambulance brought the accident. The police car and the ambulance collided, the ambulance spun into the sheriff's patrol car which rammed into a parked taxicab, without serious consequences. The drivers of the police car and ambulance were fined for reckless driving.

The queen wasps, sole members of communities who survive the winter, lay eggs in the spring which found new nests and form new generations.

Just About a Dog

By FRANK TRIPP

We gave Mitzi to Nancy on her ninth birthday. As Nancy grew to young womanhood, Mitzi grew into the lives and hearts of our household.

She was a knowing, loving, full-of-fun Boston terrier, about the size of two fists when we got her. She lived to a ripe old age, as dogs go; was part of our family for twelve years.

Those were wonderful years, as we look back upon them; among the happiest we have known. Our children were eleven years apart and lived every stage of youth to our house. It kept the place joyfully upse, and kept us young.

We've always been blessed that way. Even now, within a few city blocks from us, live all six of our grandchildren, three girls and three boys, ages ranging from 19 years down to three months.

They're a husky, healthy crew for whom I have just one major ambition—that they keep out of jail.

"WHY DO YOU write such things?" Fanny will say when she reads this. "It doesn't interest anybody, and it's so intimate, so personal."

Then I'll show her some of the letters that this kind of homey patter brings in. From wholesome folks who live their lives for those about them; whose world is confined within four walls that love and unselfishness have brightened into happy home; the sum total of which constitutes our faith that America will endure.

Contrasted is a packet of another sort. Learned, critical, scientific or severe. Comments, alibis, defenses, exonerations, typed on stationery of statesmen or that of great corporations, signed by the "vice-president, in charge of public relations."

On many of them a bored secretary adds, "dictated but not read." Like as not most are the Number 9 letter that goes to writers who tread even lightly upon corns that the v.p. is hired to keep comfortable.

I like best the word that comes from dads and mothers who have lived the simple things that happen to us all. Sincerity comes from common folks, from children and from dogs.

WE WANDERED well away from Mitzi to find excuse for columns such as this—but we're going back to Mitzi now.

Her long and full life led her the same porthouse that we ate, took her to Florida when we went, made her welcome anywhere in our house.

She paid her way in the happiness she gave us all; for she could laugh or weep with us as truly as could any human I have ever known. Mitzi was specially nice to me. She and I were the only ones who had a dog house. I was in mine more than she was in hers. Always, when I was assigned to mine, she'd come in and invite me over to hers; and tell me plainly that I stood all right in her book.

ONE BALMY SPRING MORNING Fanny and I agreed that the last kind thing we could do for Mitzi should be done that day. She was blinding; could hardly get about.

We sat on the back steps, as I went to get my car. Mitzi snuggled between us. Sadly, we talked it over. Fanny would take our wonderful little friend away that morning.

I am sure that Mitzi heard and understood. She reached her still pretty face up to my cheek and kissed me good-bye. For weeks she had not had strength to do it. I went to the office with a heavy heart; with tears in my eyes. I loved that little dog.

In ten minutes Fanny phoned:

"Something lovely has happened," she said. "I won't have to take Mitzi. She watched you out of sight; then struggled to the lily bed. Before you reached the office, she was dead."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—You can't get away from life.

"And the 'Hermit of Cabbage Key' has quit trying. He's becoming so social now he's waiving hula skirts and looking forward to becoming a baby sitter.

The hermit is 68-year-old Si as Dent, who has lived for some 40 years on Cabbage Key, a 2,000-acre subtropical island 12 miles southwest of here. Much of that time he has spent alone in a palm-thatched hut.

But today "Uncle Silas" is the most modernized hermit in history. Civilization caught up with him after two young honeymooning couples moved to the island and adopted him.

"I'll bet there isn't a hermit anywhere that gets the attention he does," said Mrs. Barbara Simmons.

"And he loves it," laughed her friend, Mrs. Eva McCall. The girls, married to young shrimp fishermen, live in palm-thatched huts which the old hermit helped build.

"Eva cooks his meals, and I go over with my husband at night and rub poor Uncle Silas's back," smiled Barbara. "What hermit before had a cook and a private masseuse?"

Like Spoiled Baby
 "He's just a big spoiled baby now. He's very happy we came. He's weaving grass skirts for us."

I walked down a hundred yards of sandy trail. And there sat the "Hermit of Cabbage Key" in the doorway of his palm hut, looking like Santa Claus in overalls.

"Seems to me like I see somebody coming," he said. And he went right on at his task, threading apart palm leaves with an ice pick. It takes him a whole day to make a palm leaf mosquito swatter in this manner. And the swatter only sells for one dollar.

"Uncle Silas" was too shy to admit he was making the grass skirts as presents for the two young wives.

"I started in on a hula skirt this morning," he said with great dignity, "because my mosquito swatter business wasn't sufficient."

Actually the $38.50 monthly pension he receives more than provides for his simple needs. That buys his food—eggs, bread and milk. It also buys him a quart of whiskey, which he takes in an egg at the rate of two table-spoons a day. He pays his doctor by bringing him a gunnysack full of clams from the bay.

"I don't care much for sea food," he said. "I ate fish for so many years I got so I couldn't."

I like to collect autographed recordings: Louise Carlyle brought over one of her NBC recordings to me the other day. There is a cute story in connection with her.

Her brother, Russ, has a band. When he was called into the army, he was wondering what to do with the band and baby sister, Louise said, "Why not let me take it over?" Russ, brushed her off, but she was persistent.

For a year and a half they played throughout the country, and there are some who say that, when Miss Carlyle turned the band back to her brother, it was even better than it was when she took it over.

She is an enthusiastic bridge player. Although today's hand is not spectacular, you will notice that she handled it wisely.

On the opening lead the nine of hearts Miss Carlyle played the ten from dummy. East played the jack, which was allowed to hold the trick. If East returned a spade, Miss Carlyle would know that the queen was not in that hand. East might return a diamond, which would give declarer a free finesse. The king of diamonds had to be in the East hand, in order to make the contract.

East, however, returned the king of hearts, which declarer won. Now she trumped the three of hearts in dummy with the deuce of diamonds, led the seven of diamonds and finessed the nine spot. The seven of clubs was played to dummy's queen, and hoping that the clubs were divided 4-3, Miss Carlyle cashed dummy's ace and king of clubs, discarding a losing heart and a losing spade from her own hand. She then led the five of diamonds, finessed the ten-spot, the ace picked up the king and gave her the contract.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Received the following from D.L.S. of Greenkill avenue. "Your items about old times in Kingston brings me back to when a big part of Kingston was lit by oil lamps. I had a route on Wilbur Road from Pettit Powder Keg factory to Sweeney's Stone Dock in Wilbur. I had to fill and light them every night. A man by the name of Thomas O'Hara had the contract." Reading part of this letter to Ben Johnston, Strand pharmacist, he told me about a man named Muldoon, who used to come around with a wagon, driven by a mule. He carried a barrel of kerosene in his wagon to fill the old lamps around the section of Spring street and to the foot of Russell street.

Mr. D.L.S. follows with "I remember the 'Jas. W. Baldwin' and 'Thos. Cornell' which ran to New York and the old 'Lark' when she ran to Rhinecliff. And down at Kingston Point, when every night they used to make up towns of brick barges, cement, stone, or ice barges for New York to be towed by the side-wheelers, 'McDonald,' 'Oswego,' and 'Austin.'"

He continues, "I knew Mrs. Pops Hamilton, who kept a store where Burgevin's 'shop' is now. Also knew Mr. Van Buren, the blind man (mentioned in February 14 column) who kept a leather finding place on Broadway near where the Orpheum Theatre is now. He could tell you the color of hide just by the feel of it. I was also to the show in Sampson's Opera House the night it burned. I remember the Edgville Dam break and went down to the creek and saw everything going out with the freshest water was running all over the Strand. Could not get anywhere near it. Remember the Centennial in 1876.

Farmers Want Wives

So many farmers in Southern Rhodesia are without wives that a former British flyer who went to Africa to start a poultry farm changed his mind and decided on a matrimonial agency. Bulawayo reports. He returned to London to link up with a big agency, which will enroll women wanting husbands. He found that farmers in Rhodesia seemed afraid to marry South Africa girls because "cinemas, clothes and city life are all the women seem to think about. Most of the farmers seem to want Scottish girls because of their characteristics of energy, cheerfulness and good cooking, the promoter said, and this will be all right because hundreds of Scotch girls are clamoring to go to Africa.

No man's collar!

A FAVORITE trick of those who would like to destroy confidence in newspapers as the first step to doing away with them is to complain that they are the tools of special interests dangerous to the people. Sometimes they say it is the bankers or the politicians or the labor unions or the advertisers—whatever fits the occasion.

Usually the critics have their own axes to grind. What they want published are their own opinions and not contrary ones. They would like to be the "special interests" represented exclusively in the newspapers.

If such people had their way, there would not be the newspaper as you know it today. They would eliminate the great variety of facts and opinions that appear and without which democracy would not work.

To exercise your rights as a free citizen, you must have free access to information. You must know about laws and prices and theories and movements so that you can approve or protest. Ignorant of events and trends, you would not be able to keep your representatives in government representing you.

Now you get the facts of what takes place and you get the opinions of why they take place and what should be done. You get all sides of questions—statements by bankers and borrowers, businessmen and labor leaders, government officials and private citizens. The editor has his views too but he can't limit his pages to them. Readers include all sorts of people and all shades of opinions. If the editor wears any kind of a collar, it doesn't belong to one man or group. The leash is held by all his readers.

What the critics don't want and are afraid of is the diversity of facts and opinions brought to you by newspapers. They actually want a one-class, one-idea press—the kind that Hitler had and that Stalin runs today. If they succeed, it will sound the death knell of freedom in America.

These critics are your enemies as much as they are enemies of the newspapers. When they take away the right of a free press, they take it away from you. They know that if they can control what you read they can control your mind—and you. Working sometimes openly as committees with high-sounding slogans, they are blueprinting what you shall and shall not read.

There is nothing particularly new in the pattern. But you cannot ignore it without risk. If you permit these self-styled leaders to take away your right to read what you want, when instead of a free exchange of facts and opinions, you decide to depend on the propaganda they hand out, you will have taken the first steps towards the loss of all your rights as a free citizen.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Clay Declines Comment

Berlin, Feb. 28 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay declined to comment today on reports that he planned to retire as U. S. military governor in Germany by June 30. It has been an open secret however that Clay would like to relinquish his post in Europe as soon as convenient to the Washington authorities. The Chicago Tribune said last night it had learned authoritatively that the general would retire by June 30 and possibly within the next 60 days and be succeeded by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer or Gen. Mark W. Clark.

Peiping Delegation Says Communists Sincere on Peace

Nanking, Feb. 28 (AP)—A spokesman said today the unofficial delegation to Peiping was satisfied as to the Communists' sincerity for peace.

Chang Feng-Chou, secretary to Delegate Shao-Li-Tze, made the statement at a news conference. The delegation returned to Nanking over the week-end.

Members were reporting to Acting President Li Tsung-shan, whose hand in efforts to deal with the Communists was strengthened by the return to the capital of Premier Sun Fo from Canton.

Chang declined to discuss whether the mission returned from the Communist area with concrete plans for peace. He said the mission's sole purpose was to learn whether the Communists were sincerely in favor of ending the war.

"In this regard the mission was a complete success," Chang said. Both Nationalists and Communists regarded the mission as unofficial.

From other sources it was learned that Shao brought a letter to Li from Mao Tse-tung, China's Communist leader. The mission originated in Shanghai and is expected to return there tomorrow. Shortly after Li took over the presidency he named Shao as one of five official peace envoys but Shao accompanied the Shanghai group solely as an observer.

Premier Sun flew back to Nanking yesterday from Canton on the swiftness plane once reserved for the exclusive use of President Chiang Kai-shek, now in debatable retirement.

Sun refused to talk with newsmen but may see them later.

He likely will be called before the legislative Yuan, which convened today, to explain his flight with the cabinet to Canton. Some 40 legislators have threatened to call separate session of the legislature in Canton.

Some members of the legislative body are expected to try to oust the premier.

CHURCHILL BOOED IN BRUSSELS

Britain's wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in Brussels for the International European Movement meeting, was booed by a large crowd of Communists when he made an outdoor speech on February 27. Police arrested 60 Communists, including senators and deputies, during an organized attempt to break up the talk. Churchill is shown here speaking at the inaugural meeting in the Palais des Academies, February 25.

Dewey Says ...

66 2/3 per cent increase in the personal income tax.

The Erie bloc said Saturday it would propose budget cuts totaling $102,330,000.

In taking his case directly to the people last night, Dewey said "I do not for one minute argue that this budget cannot be cut. You can cut any amount you are willing to give up in services."

"It is in your hands and the hands of your elected representatives," he said.

"I have submitted my budget as required by the Constitution. In my judgment it is a good budget. The Legislature is now considering the budget and it has the constitutional right to adopt it or to cut it, to vote taxes or to refuse to vote taxes. The only constitutional requirement is that the budget be balanced."

"When all is said and done, we cannot talk about tax cutting without talking about service cutting."

"This budget can be cut further—any budget can be cut—but it cannot be cut further unless you and all of us face up to the simple fact that we cannot get something for nothing."

At one point, Dewey declared: "My own criticism of this budget is that we are not doing enough. There are a lot of things we ought to do that I left out of this budget entirely, just because we didn't have the money."

Dewey said, "In this state budget the tax rates proposed are lower, on the average than the tax rates of the last pre-war year, 1941."

"What do these (new) tax rates mean?" Dewey said at another point.

"I have asked for one-cent increase in the gasoline tax. How much will it cost you? If you drive your car 8,000 miles a year, which I believe is about the average, the tax would cost you about $5 a year."

"What about the much heralded 66 2/3 per cent increase in the state income tax? How much would that cost you, assuming you are married and have two children?"

"Well, if you earn $3,600 a year or $70 a week * * * it won't cost you a nickel because you don't pay any state income tax at all."

Dewey said the income tax increase would be $8.56 for a person making $5,000 a year and $71 for a person making $10,000.

The revolt against his fiscal program confronted Dewey with the first full-scale open challenge to his leadership in his six years as governor.

Moreover, he faced serious danger of defeat because of the determination of the Erie and Westchester insurgents to force some reduction in proposed tax increases.

Tied to the revolt appears to be a political struggle for control of the Republican party in the state if Dewey steps out when his term ends two years hence.

The Erie and Westchester forces apparently are intent on being in a position to grab the reins in such an eventuality.

Power Strike Is Averted Through Wage Negotiation

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—A threatened strike by 28,000 electric and gas workers has been averted by a negotiated agreement for wage increases and other benefits for the workers.

A strike against the Consolidated Edison System, which serves most of New York city and suburban Westchester county, had been threatened for tomorrow night by the C.I.O. Utility Workers Union.

The strike was called off last night after a four-hour bargaining session.

Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, flanked by company and union officials, announced "there will be no strike."

Union membership meetings will be called shortly to vote on ratification of the agreement.

As plans for the strike had gone on, union spokesmen said it would make New York "a dead city."

But officials of the giant utility system said it would be able to provide near-normal service for a considerable time through use of supervisory employees.

Involved were electricity and gas for homes, offices and industrial firms; elevator service; electric power for railroads and one subway system; steam heat for many Manhattan buildings, and other services.

Mediation services aided in reaching last night's settlement. It provides an across-the-board wage increase of seven cents an hour and an additional five cents an hour for 17,000 of the employees. The agreement also provides a union shop, improved grievance procedure, and a joint labor-management committee to work out a better pension plan.

A two-year contract under the agreement will be effective as of last January 1 and will provide for a wage reopening in March, 1950.

Joseph E. O'Grady, director of the city's Labor Relations Division, estimated the improved benefits will cost Consolidated Edison $6,500,000 annually.

The union had sought a general wage increase of 15 cents an hour and other benefits. The company says present wages range from $33 to $74 a week.

The grandchildren, not the children of the Japanese who survived the atom bomb, may show effects of the radiation.

The Societe will pay or enough Girl Scout manuals to furnish copies to all troops in New York state, as part of its program of aid to youth, and it was announced by Myer Kaplan, grand chemist, that through the organization 30 dozen blouses would be donated to children in homes of Ulster county.

Chief de Gare Rosenberg urged that voyageurs from Ulster voture attend the celebration in Poughkeepsie Saturday when the 40 & 8 of Dutchess county received one of the French boxcars that recently landed in New York as part of the Gratitude Train. The parade and ceremonies will start at 10:30 a. m.

The locomotive of Ulster voture will make the trip to Poughkeepsie and appear in the parade.

To Use Atomic Energy

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Atomic energy will be used tomorrow in laying the cornerstone for a 19-story building being erected on the site of the old Vanderbilt mansion at Fifth avenue and 51st street. The new building is being put up for the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company. Here is how the atomic ceremony is planned: The two-ton granite stone first will be suspended one foot above its final resting place by a chain hoist with a motor at the top. By use of a miniature atomic pile, a reactor, an amplifier and relays, sufficient atomic energy will be produced to lower the stone into position without being touched or guided by human hands.
